

A State Solution for North Carolina - It Is Time to Act

Recent events in our country have not only raised awareness around policing issues, but also they have exposed an immediate need for de-escalation training, empathy, and self-awareness—especially for first responders.

At Critical Perceptions, our impactful training teaches law enforcement how to “Get beyond the badge.”

My name is Daniel, and I am a 30-year veteran in law enforcement. I have a master's degree in psychology, an associate's license in addictions, and a certification in life coaching. My program can immediately transform the way officers, first responders, and security personnel relate to and deal with the current dynamic of race relationships and community discord.

The time to act is NOW: Please contact me by email at d.edwards@criticalperceptions.com about the next steps required because officers' lives matter too. Critical Perceptions' training can help, so please, let's work together and get our communities back on track.
